

Who's who in court

Things to know

Is my case on today?

Check the court list. You can find it on the notice board or ask the court officer.

When will my case start?

You should be at court by 9.30am but this does not mean that your case will start then. Sometimes there can be a long wait until your case is heard.

Can I get legal aid?

Not everybody can get legal aid. If you have not applied for legal aid before your court date you may be able to do so at court. See one of the Legal Aid NSW duty lawyers who will explain what you need to do next.

Want to know more?

Ask for the brochure Going to Court at your local Legal Aid NSW office or your Local Court. This will help you prepare for your day in court.

Getting help

You should get legal advice as soon as possible.

If you do not have a private lawyer call LawAccess NSW. LawAccess NSW is a free government service that provides legal information and referrals for people in NSW. You can call LawAccess NSW on 1300 888 529 or access their webchat function at www.lawaccess.nsw.gov.au.

Legal Aid NSW provides legal advice and legal representation in court for eligible clients. Call LawAccess NSW on 1300 888 529 for a referral to see a lawyer before your court date.

If you are Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander you can also contact the Aboriginal Legal Service (NSW/ACT) (ALS) for free legal advice. To find your closest ALS office call 1800 765 767.
